Never fulfilled your dream of becoming president? At least you can play the part, like actor Bruce Greenwood, right, who sat in the

in the movie Thirteen Days. Nine American presidents, including Hoover, Roosevelt, and Truman, chose the chair. And when Kennedy took office, its ergonomics were improved to ease his chronic back pain. In addition to Wag the Dog and some 1960s flicks, the chair has made "real-life" appearances in JFK and All the President's Men. Leather upholstered, solid-maple frame, brass-hooded wheels. Available in 16 colors. $2,490. The New York First Company, 800-581-7599; newyorkfirst.com.—N.S.
